

From the Desk of Pastor Olsen

For those of you who remember the show “Kids say the Darndest Things,” this is one for you. This is a true story from our former Field Worker, Rev. Raymond DuBrava, that he recently overheard in their preschool.

Kid 1: I’ve got a picture of beer.

Kid 2: I’ve got a picture of alcohol.

Teacher: No. Stop. You’re cutting out pictures of food that your family has at Thanksgiving dinner.

Kid 2: That is most of what we have.

Out of the mouth of babes, right. They just speak it like it is. These are precious children that God has given. As a church we have been given the blessing of having these near 200 children in our preschool and school, where we get to teach them of God’s Law, which is necessary, and the Gospel through the work of Jesus Christ, which is necessary, since we have sinned against Him in thought, word and deed, by what we have done and what we have left undone and are in desperate need of His forgiveness.

In the 120 plus years of having a school, right now might be the most important time in the history of Emmaus. I do not have the space to recount all the things going on in our culture today that truly threaten the physical, emotional, and spiritual condition of these children as Satan works actively to destroy not just the church and school, the home and family as well, but even their ability to have children themselves in the future.

These are truly dark times which we live, Lord have mercy. As the basic building blocks of society from the Garden of Eden, God has set up that family to be that place where one man and one woman united in marriage with Christ at the center, bring up these children in the fear and instruction of the Lord.

We must never take for granted, nor be apathetic to this responsibility that we have been given, that we have taken on, to assist fathers in their God-given role to raise up their children in the way they should go. Our school does not take the place of the family but helps and supports it as we seek to work side by side to courageously confess Christ to the next generation. This story above is a humorous one, but not all of them are so humorous. They are quite sad with what these children deal with each and every day, the suffering, the pain, the hurt, the effects of sin on these young unsuspecting children. Praise be to God that they have a place to come to that is safe, that is comforting and loving, a place where they know that they will not only hear of Jesus’ love but see it in action through our teachers and staff.

If you knew what I know, you would weep for these children. I can’t take their pain away, but I can ease their suffering by reminding them of their Savior, who suffered for them, willingly taking on human flesh, forsaken by His own Father on the cross so that they would never be forsaken and the promise of a hope and future to those who believe in Christ Jesus as their Savior. As we approach Christmas it should be a time of rejoicing for all of us, but that is not always the case. Praise be to God that these children have a place where the love of Christ fills the halls and the classrooms. It is not a perfect place, but it is a place where forgiveness is given and received from a Savior who came to earth, suffered, died, and rose again for them. He did this and so much more.

Hopefully in our homes and in our lives our children would not see the amount of alcohol we consume as the point of the family getting together, but the feeding we receive from the bread of life, Jesus Christ, and giving thanks to Him as we gather around Word and Sacrament to receive gifts that last for all eternity. Remember these children in your prayers and thank you for your continued support of our preschool and school, as together Courageously Confessing Christ, we bring these children and their families a hope, peace and a truth that is found nowhere else but their crucified and risen Savior, the Word made flesh that dwelt among us.

Blessings in Christ,

Pastor Olsen

Sunday Adult Bible Class

We are continuing our study of “He Has Given Me My Body: A deep study on the Theology of the Body.” The body matters! In the first Article of the Apostles' Creed, Luther explains that God has made me, body, all my members and still takes care of them. But what does this mean in the world we live in today? What does it mean for our interaction with our culture, our community, with our children and in our church? Implications are not just here on earth, but eternally as we know we will be resurrected bodily, just as Jesus was! Join us in this study written by Pastor Olsen which seeks to biblically understand the importance of “the body” as God created it, redeemed it and sanctified it and how we can “give a defense for the hope that we have,” to a world struggling in a sea of sin and degradation We hope you'll join us!

Mid-Week Advent Worship: The Promise Incarnate

Wednesdays at 7:00 p.m. November 30, December 7, 14, and 21

In the preparations that present themselves to us in Advent, as we await the arrival of the Savior, God promises to send a child, a Son, who will bring peace to the nations and light to the dark world, the very Word that became flesh and dwelt among us. This is Jesus Christ, true God and TRUE MAN! The one foretold and promised all the way back to the Garden of Eden. This promise would take flesh and truly dwell, tabernacle, amongst His people, God with us. This bodily presence of god in our midst should cause us to stop and pause from the day-to-day grind and see that salvation has truly come to us in His bodily presence and is still with us. The promise came in the flesh and the promise is still in, with and under the bread and the wine for the forgiveness of our sins. This Sacramental Union is as true and as real as Jesus Christ who came and walked amongst His disciples. His promised presence is ever before us and His mercies are truly new every morning: The Promise Incarnate.

December 7 Prophecy: Immanuel - God With Us

December 14 Praise: Incarnational Mercy

Emmaus School & Preschool News

It's been a busy month at Emmaus Lutheran School and Preschool. We started out with a great Preschool and Elementary assembly featuring Jared, the comfort dog. We all loved hearing about the great ministry that Jared does with many people and then each class was able to visit with Jared and even get to pet him. Everybody from young-old enjoyed the morning and learning about this unique way to serve our Lord!

Preschool had a morning with their Dads at Doughnuts with Dad! We all enjoyed our doughnuts and apple cider and then did some fun activities in our classrooms with our Dads. To end our morning we had a special Chapel service with Pastor and our Dads.

Elementary School had a chance to spend the Tuesday before Thanksgiving with our Grandparent's/Special People for the morning. We had a Chapel service with Pastor, some special animal visitors with Mark's Ark and then ended with a delicious turkey lunch. A huge thank you to congregation members, Dave Greener and Greg Kiess who helped the whole day and did everything from setting up and taking down chairs numerous times to mashing potatoes for lunch! It was great to see congregation and school working together!

We are all getting ready for our Christmas programs. Please feel free to join us as we get ready for Christ's birth.

K-2nd will be Tuesday, November 29 at 6:30 p.m.

3rd-5th will be Tuesday, December 6 at 6:30 p.m.

6th-8th will be Tuesday, December 13 at 6:30 p.m.

Preschool/Prekindergarten will be Saturday, December 10 at 3:00 p.m.

Tours have started for next year for both Preschool and Elementary School. If you know somebody who is looking for a great place for their child to grow spiritually and academically please send them our way!

Don't forget that if you are looking for a great state tax write off and a wonderful way to help a child attend Emmaus to donate to our SGO fund. For more information let Mrs. Olsen or our SGO coordinator Molly Graf know and we will help you through the process.

What Makes for a Cheerful Giver?

St. Paul wrote to Church of Christ in Corinth: “Each one must give as he has decided in his heart, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver” (2 Cor. 9:7). God loves a cheerful giver. But who is a cheerful giver?

Abel was. By faith, he gave the firstborn of his flock, and it was acceptable in God’s sight. Abraham was. By faith, he prepared cakes and a tender choice calf for God and entertained angels unaware. So also were David and Solomon. By faith, David would not make a sacrifice to God that cost him nothing, so he paid Araunah his due. By faith, Solomon built a house for God, where his name would dwell and thereby where He would dwell to be Israel’s God and they His people.

What more shall we say? For time would fail us to tell of all those who gave not simply for the joy of giving but for the joy of knowing the One to whom they gave.

So also our Lord, who for the joy set before Him, gave everything – yes, even His life – enduring the cross and scorning its shame. He gave to the shedding of His blood, willingly and resolutely setting His face toward Jerusalem to die for the life of the world. Though He was rich in every way, He became poor, so that by His poverty, we might be rich beyond measure.

So then, let us like Abel and Abraham, like David and Solomon, and even like our Lord Jesus Christ, give cheerfully to God for the work of His kingdom in our midst. Like them, let us decide in our heart for the joy set before us. It’s the joy of knowing the One to whom we give is the One who gives us all good things.

TOP NEWS: Canadian Applies for Assisted Suicide, Fearing Homelessness

A 54-year-old man in Ontario, Canada, has applied for Medical Aid in Dying (MAiD) — not because he's ill, but because he's facing the loss of his house and fears becoming homeless. Amir Farsoud told City News Everywhere that he has struggled with a back injury that has left him with constant pain. Yet despite this, he still wanted to continue living, until the home he shares with two roommates was put up for sale. As he receives social assistance, he can't find another place to live within his budget and fears becoming homeless. So, he has applied for MAiD. "I don't want to die but I don't want to be homeless more than I don't want to die," he said. "I know, in my present health condition, I wouldn't survive it [homelessness] anyway. It wouldn't be at all dignified waiting, so if that becomes my two options, it's pretty much a no-brainer." Farsoud added that if he wasn't facing homelessness, he wouldn't be considering MAiD. Dr. Kerry Bowman, a bioethicist from the University of Toronto, told City News Everywhere that Canada's lax euthanasia laws have led to more and more people with disabilities, like Farsoud, seeking MAiD. 10/25/22 - Live Action News

Single Mom Who Rejected Abortion Graduates from College

A mom who chose life and achieved her educational goal with assistance from an Ohio pregnancy center, recently shared her inspiring story on television, illustrating the importance of pregnancy help for a national audience.

Moriah became pregnant at 16 and received support from a local pregnancy help center where she learned her options and obtained material assistance and personal support, along with parenting courses. She was helped by a pregnancy center for her second child as well, including receiving a free ultrasound.

Moriah completed high school, graduated from college and became a nurse. Later she would complete a master's degree the same year her son graduated from high school.

Moriah was interviewed on Fox and Friends along with Margie Christie, executive director of Dayton Right to Life. Moriah shared her story amid the backdrop of ongoing attacks on pregnancy help since the overturn of Roe v. Wade with the Dobbs v. Jackson Women's Health Organization ruling, including pro-abortion vandalism, threats, harassment, and violence targeting pregnancy centers, churches, and pro-life organizations.

The attacks have also included threats and false rhetoric from politicians such as Elizabeth Warren, and more recently Georgia Democrat Gubernatorial candidate Stacy Abram, claiming that fetal heartbeats at six weeks are not real. They are concocted by pro-life advocates, and Vice President Kamala Harris praising Democrat state attorneys general for going after pregnancy centers.

Fox and Friends host Rachel Campos-Duffy noted in the interview with Moriah and Christie how the pregnancy center had a volunteer who would pick up Moriah's homework, deliver it to her school and then bring it back to Moriah, to enable her to graduate from high school, "clearly changing the trajectory" of Moriah's life.

"So, truly beautiful," Campos-Duffy said. That's "really the outcome" of pregnancy help, she said. The broadcast displayed a photo of Moriah and her family, Campos-Duffy offering congratulations for both her and her son's graduations. She then turned to Christie, inquiring about the attacks and their impact on pregnancy centers. "It is incredible that these facilities that are helping women the most are being targeted," Christie said.

She listed some of the many things the center provides to support women in need, including pantry supplies, diapers, food, and clothing, along with emotional support and scholarships. "So, it's really unfortunate that we're the ones being targeted when we're the ones offering real solutions," Christi said.

Referencing Moriah's having received an ultrasound, Campos-Duffy said pregnancy help centers wanting to provide women with real information so they can make an informed decision, "seems like the right thing, the empowering thing to do."

"That's exactly right," said Christie. "Women can handle information," she said. "And so, let's give them as much information as we can. Let's show them their baby, their baby's heartbeat. And then, let's offer them some prenatal care, all kinds of options for them, help with their schooling. Like I said, we have the answers and the solutions for these women."

Asked her response to Abrams' claim that there's no such thing as a fetal heartbeat at six weeks, Christie suggested that people follow the science.

Campos-Duffy asked Moriah her thoughts on pregnancy centers in closing. "I hope that we remain solution-driven and focusing on the strengths of the families that come through those centers," Moriah said. Pregnancy help centers offer support beyond pregnancy, she said, citing some community partnerships that offer moms additional support.

"So, there are resources out there," Moriah said, "and the pregnancy centers often are a great referral source for that."

Thank You!

A big THANK YOU to all who helped in the church office this year while I was out for back surgery and vacation days. I really appreciate all the assistance you have given to help complete the various tasks that need to be done and help the office run smoothy. I truly couldn't do it without you - whether you're a "regular," helped with a special project, or have offered a word of support or encouragement. Thank you very much!

Merry Christmas and God's blessings to each of you and your families!

Church & Preschool Secretary
